PROFILE

Full-stack developer with over 5 years of experience specializing in TypeScript, React, Next.js, and Node.js to build high-performance web applications. I have a proven track record of optimizing AWS infrastructure and managing large-scale e-commerce platforms with over 10 million users. Expert in the full development lifecycle, I implement technical solutions like SSR/SSG to maximize SEO while developing robust APIs and complex integrations. My primary focus is enhancing user experience through dynamic interfaces and efficient architectures within innovative and challenging technological environments.
